This is an adorable story for kids and parents alike. In it, a baby Macaw who is highly attached to her momma, needs to branch out and leave the nest so she can start preschool. The momma bird knows just how scary that can be for her little one, but also knows it is time to let her spread her wings. This picture book, done with beautiful watercolor illustrations has an easy to read rhyming sequence that will have your kids memorizing the pages and wanting you to read it over and over again. As a Bonus, I've also included 7 pages of black and white illustrations that your child can use to color in the pictures throughout the book. You'll delight in seeing how Momma Macaw has to adjust to her own separation anxiety as she finds herself alone while her baby is off at school. This has a very happy ending and teaches a positive message throughout. Enjoy this highly entertaining story that also converts to a one-of-a-kind picture book with your child's personal colored illustrations.
