HENRY & GOLDIE'S ELEPHANT ADVENTURE

Hi! I'm Henry, and I have a special gift...I can talk to animals.

My parents are taking a trip to Africa and I get to go with them. I've never been to Africa before, and my parents tell me that it is very warm but also very special.

They want to study the great African Elephant that lives only here in Africa and some places in Asia.

My parents like to study animals by watching them and gathering information that way, but since I can talk to animals I like to ask them questions about themselves and learn that way.

My dog and my best friend, Goldie, and I are going to have an adventure. We're going to find one of these African elephants and interview her so that we can learn about them, too.

My parents say that elephants are very special and have a lot they can share with us. I think they're right. Goldie and I will find out all about the life of the African elephant and what they like to do when we meet one of these special animals in the Sahara.

I hope you enjoy reading our adventures!
