In the National Interest: Canadian Foreign Policy and the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, 1909-2009 (Beyond Boundaries: Canadian Defence and Strategic Studies)

Canada's role as world power and its sense of itself in the global landscape has been largely shaped and defined over the past 100 years by the changing policies and personalities in the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT).

This engaging and provocative book brings together fifteen of the country's leading historians and political scientists to discuss a century of Canada's national interests and DFAIT's role in defining and pursuing them. Accomplished and influential analysts such as Jack Granatstein, Norman Hillmer, and Nelson Michaud, are joined by rising stars like Whitney Lackenbauer, Adam Chapnick, and Tammy Nemeth in commenting on the history and future implications of Canada's foreign policy.

In the National Interest: Canadian Foreign Policy and the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, 1909-2009, gives fresh insight into the Canada First concept in the 1920s, the North American security issues in the 1930s, Canada's vision for the United Nations, early security warnings in the Arctic, the rise of the international francophone community, conflicting continental visions over energy, and Canada/U.S. policy discussions. The impact of politicians and senior bureaucrats such as O.D. Skelton, Lester B. Pearson, Marcel Cadieux, Jules Leger, Pierre Trudeau and Brian Mulroney are set against issues such as national defence, popular opinion, human rights, and energy production.

In the National Interest also provides a platform for discussion about Canada's future role on the international stage. With its unique combination of administrative and policy history, In the National Interest is in a field of its own.

Is it you who having spare time in that case spend it whole day by simply watching television programs or just lying on the bed? Do you need something totally new? This In the National Interest: Canadian Foreign Policy and the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, 1909-2009 (Beyond Boundaries: Canadian Defence and Strategic Studies) can be the response, oh how comes? It's a book you know. You are so out of date, spending your spare time by reading in this new era is common not a nerd activity. So what these guides have than the others?

Sheila Collins:

As a university student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's internal or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and also can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this In the National Interest: Canadian Foreign Policy and the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, 1909-2009 (Beyond Boundaries: Canadian Defence and Strategic Studies) can make you experience more interested to read.
